

9th Annual
Advanced Permaculture Course in Teaching

with
Jude Hobbs & Andrew Millison

August 9-15, 2009

Empower Yourself To Advocate For Change
Through Whole Systems Design And Teaching.

In this dynamic and interactive course, you will learn significant teaching techniques to communicate Permaculture principles and strategies in a wide variety of settings.

We are committed to encouraging and inspiring your unique strengths and talents by modeling diverse teaching modalities such as lecture, facilitating class discussions, storytelling, and using visual aids. In this setting of active learning, you will experience essential hands-on practice by preparing and co-teaching several presentations. As a final course project the class will organize, promote and present a workshop to the public: An Introduction to Permaculture. This event will be offered via the Cottage Grove Permaculture Guild.

This is a Certificate Course offered by the Cascadia Permaculture Institute in Collaboration with Permaculture Institute USA

Course Topics Include:

- Philosophy and Ethics of Instruction
- Teaching Systems, Principles and Patterns
- Adult Learning Styles
- Organizing Curriculum and Resources
- Presentations and Facilitators Roles
- Activities and Utilizing Media
- Co-Instructing
- Time Management
- Planning, Marketing, and Economics
- Teaching Venue Logistics
- Interns and Apprentices
- Evaluations and Feedback
- Tips from the Trade
- Keeping Up The Spirit
- And More

Prerequisite: Permaculture Design Course Certificate or Instructor's approval

Jude Hobbs is a horticulturist, Permaculture designer, and co-founder of Cascadia Permaculture Institute. Since 1982, she has provided whole system environmental design solutions for urban and rural settings. Jude has taught Permaculture workshops and courses, for the past 20 years, in the private and public sectors, developing curricula that are fun, accessible, and inspiring. She lives and works (play/work) on 7.5 acres in Cottage Grove, Oregon.

Andrew Millison has been teaching the Permaculture Design Course since 2001 at several Universities from Arizona to Oregon. His practical experience is as the owner of a design-build landscaping company, designer in a Landscape Architecture office, and public speaker. While in Arizona, he converted two city lots (and beyond) into diverse Permaculture 'Eco-Hood' demonstration sites. Andrew is currently teaching at Oregon State University.

Tuition: $700-775. (sliding scale)

Includes course materials, camping & 3 socially conscious meals a day (see registration form for details).

Location: Wilson Creek Gardens, Cottage Grove, Oregon

Class size limited to 15 participants

For more information contact: cascadiapc@gmail.com
Or visit: www.cascadiapermaculture.com

REGISTRATION FORM

Permaculture Teacher Training August 9-15, 2009

Deadline for registration: August 3, 2009.

Enclosed is my full tuition of $ _____ (Sliding scale $700-775)

Enclosed is my non-refundable deposit of $200.
I will pay the remaining amount of $ _____ upon registration at the training site.

Name
Address
City		State		Zip
Phone
Email

CLASS SIZE LIMITED TO 15 PARTICIPANTS.

TO PRE-REGISTER and ensure your spot in the class, send this form with check, money order or cashier's check payable to AENW to:

Jude Hobbs
32272 Wilson Creek Road
Cottage Grove, Oregon 97424

MEALS

During this course, our intention is to satisfy your daily nutritional patterns and help you feel at home. Please assist us with our meal planning by describing your daily diet and preferences:

LODGING OPTIONS: Camping on site (included in tuition); camping at a local, public lakeside campground (1/2 mile away); motels or B&B's in the town of Cottage Grove (9 miles away).