

12th Annual Advanced Permaculture Course In Teaching

With

Jude Hobbs, Andrew Millison & Guests

July 29 – August 4, 2012

Cottage Grove, Oregon

Cascadia Permaculture Certificate Upon Completion

Prerequisite: Permaculture Design Course Certificate

- Philosophy and Ethics of Instruction • Teaching Systems, Principles & Patterns
 - Adult Learning Styles • Developing Curriculum and Resources • Presenting
- Facilitating • Activities and Utilizing Media • Co-Instructing • Time Management
 - Planning • Marketing • Budgets • Venue Logistics • Interns and Apprentices
 - Evaluations and Feedback • Self Care • Tips from the Trade

DESCRIPTION

In this dynamic and interactive course, you will learn significant teaching techniques to communicate Permaculture principles and strategies in a wide variety of settings.

We are committed to encouraging and inspiring your unique strengths and talents by demonstrating diverse teaching modalities such as lecture, facilitating class discussions, storytelling, and using visual aids. In this setting of active learning, you will experience essential hands-on practice by preparing and co-teaching several presentations. As a final course project the class will present a workshop to the public.

Jude has taught this course since 2000, and is modeled after the course she attended with world-renowned Permaculture Instructors, Max Lindegger and Lea Harrison in 1990.

TUITION:

$900. Includes course materials, camping & organic whole food meals

Early Registration discount of $50 by July 1st

LOCATION: Wilson Creek Gardens was coined a “permiewonderland” by one of our students. The multiple micro-climates nurture the soul and demonstrate an evolving living canvas of Permaculture systems.

INSTRUCTORS

Jude Hobbs co-founded Cascadia Permaculture Institute and has 30 years experience in the design and teaching fields. She utilizes whole system designs to generate environmentally sound solutions that inspire sustainable actions in urban and rural settings. With her extensive experience, Jude offers courses and workshops throughout the US and Canada and has developed curricula that encompass diverse learning styles with techniques that are fun, inspiring and information rich.

Andrew Millison has been teaching Permaculture since 2001 at institutes and Universities from Arizona to Oregon. His practical experience is as the owner of a design-build landscaping company, designer in a Landscape Architecture office, and public speaker. Andrew is currently teaching at Oregon State University. He has expanded into online Permaculture curriculum, and is developing a conference and course for the State of Oregon Housing and Community Services.
www.beaverstatepermaculture.com

“Jude and Andrew are in such command of this material that I would recommend this course to anyone, beginners or those experienced. I have been teaching for many years and learned so much. It will improve my ability to educate. Thanks!” W. W.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

cascadiapc@gmail.com

<http://www.cascadiapermaculture.com>